

The Character and the Culture

Chapter 9

Audio lesson: Sermon on the Mount 9

Objective: To understand the role of the Christian in the culture through four metaphors Jesus used to describe His disciples' witness. (Text: Matthew 5:11-16)

“You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything, except to be thrown out and trampled by men.”

—Matthew 5:13

The Beatitudes were the essence and central part of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount. With these eight attitudes, He has described a godly character that can change the world. In this next section, He provides commentary and application on His sermon.

After Jesus gives His profile of the beautiful attitudes, He provides us four powerful metaphors to describe what happens when Christians become part of God's solution for the world. Believers become the salt of the earth, the light of the world, a candle on a candlestick, and a city on a hill.

The first metaphor Jesus used for his disciples was that they were like salt. Salt is a preservative that keeps meat from spoiling, and Christians with the attitudes of Jesus are like salt to the world. When disciples with Christ-like attitudes are “rubbed into” the people of the world as salt is rubbed into meat, their influence will keep the world from total corruption. They become a valuable commodity that Jesus uses to transform the culture and society in which they live.

1. True or false? Many people believe that the Beatitudes are the primary teaching of the Sermon on the Mount and the rest is application.
2. True or false? The Beatitudes tell us the values of God's kingdom.
3. True or false? The main purpose of Jesus' teaching was to give people a lot of knowledge, not to show His followers how they ought to live.
4. True or false? The word "Christian" is used often in the Bible.
